

We live in Indiana and we prefer that you leave the "No Call" Law alone. We have a life and that life does not center around high pressure sales people interrupting our time with our children. Family is the most important thing over quality education and the only thing. If we chose to buy something from anyone, we will decide when, who, where and what we will buy. We know what is on the market, we know what we need and we know what we want. We don't want people calling us and pushing their service or their product down our throats when they want to pester us with their annoying phone calls. They have their rights but we have our rights to our privacy too!

Thank You
